Introduction

THE amount of references made within the entirety of John Crowley's Ægypt Tetralogy is rather infamous among a certain subset of readers. This is an on-going project to list the real and fictional books that are mentioned therein. So far this is a personal document that combines the bibliographies from other projects made for each book. I did this mostly so I didn't have to search separate files to see if a reference is made.

For that slim minority that cares, I'm doing this in $\text{\LaTeX}$, well really it is $\text{Lua}\text{\LaTeX}$, with $\text{Bib}\text{\TeX}$ and multiple keywords. Essentially, I'm setting up filters using `DEFBIBFILTER` of multiple keywords and then displaying them each as a separate `PRINTBIBLIOGRAPHY` command.

Any errors within are entirely my own.
